COLUMBIA THE WINNER

Cornell Comes in Second in the Tri-College Race.

ELEMENTS FAVORED THE CONTEST.

The Course in Perfect Condition and the Oarsmen Not Molested by Other Craft. Pennsylvania's Shell Sinks After She Is Fairly Defeated.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 25.-The Bur mile stretch of Hudson river water opposite Poughkeepsie has been christened as an intercollegiate course by the contest which was won last night by Columbia's eight over those of Cornell and Pennsylvania. Cornell was beaten by about six boat lengths, and while the victory was being won Pennsylvania's men, cramped within three-quarters of a mile of the finish, were sitting in their shell, waist deep in the water, waiting to be rescued by an approaching tug. It is scarcely fair to say that either crew was outclassed by the other, unless it be that Cornell, in her light, snappy form, was not the level antagonist of so powerful and steady a crew as Columbia. Pennsylvania, in the personnel of her crew physically, under a different method and in a different form, might have appeared to better advantage against each of the

Of the course as a waterway for a shell race it may be said that, when taken at its best and when used in its fairer moods, there could be none more desirable or satisfactory. Throughout the afternoon the surface of the river was as beautiful a rowing sheet as ever upheld a racing craft.

There were very few boats at the course yesterday, as compared with last Friday. The Grand Republic came up with her decks swarming, and two or three other excursion boats were there, but only one steam yacht graced the course.

The race was started by the word from the referee at 6:53 p. m. Cornell got the water first with a crisp three strokes, but lost it almost before it could be detected by spectators. Columbia, who had taken the water second, with surging strokes at forty-two, pulled her nose to the fore, Pennsylvania and Cornell rowing nose and nose. This order was maintained until nearly the half mile. Cornell at one time run her stroke up to forty-five, while Columbia, never losing a foot of gain, was digging thirty-eight holes a minute in the river. Pennsylvania, coming down the entire first mile, rewed a laboring, heavy stroke of thirty-four to thirty-six.

The first mile was finished in five minutes, at 6:58, and in the first stretch of the second mile the crews encountered wind against tide, and all were splashing. Columbia doggedly gained by inches in the first quarter of the second mile, then | seen. The victim died soon after.

came clear daylight between Columbia's rudder and Cornell's bow, while Pennsylvania was a full length behind Cornell. Yells greeted Columbia's first daylight, as it was seen from the observation train, and at the mile and a half they were renewed when Columbia beefed her pace for a half a dozen strokes and passed the two mile point at 7:04 by a clear length, while Pennsylvania at thirty-six to the minute, was toiling three lengths in the

At the two miles Columbia was rowing at thirty-six to the minute, while Cornell, at forty-two, was splashing some in an effort to gain, while Pennsylvania labored doggedly along in the rear at forty strokes.

Columbia entered the third mile fifteen seconds ahead of Cornell, while Pennsylvania was third by thirty seconds. From this on to the end of the third mile it was a race in procession. Columbia gaining on Cornell, and Cornell gaining on Pennsylvania. The third mile was finished at 7:09 o'clock, and Columbia, rowing down to thirty-four strokes, shot under the bridge for the home mile.

Cornell lost steadily, though slowly. An eighth of a mile below the bridge, with the leaders twelve boat lengths in advance, Pennsylvania was swamped by the chop of the tide, assisted by the wash of the referee's boat, which pushed past Pennsylvania to follow the leaders to the In the last eighth Columbia spurted to forty strokes, finishing five lengths ahead of Cornell, while a tug at the same moment was rescuing the Pennsylvania eight, who had sunk in their shell waist deep in the river before aid reached them. The race was rowed in 21:20, a minute and ten seconds below the New London

Another Row in the Italian Deputies. ROME, June 25,-The Italian deputies had a noisy sitting yesterday. During the debate on the Cavalotti-Crispi quarrel, involving charges by Signor Cavalotti of a scandalous connection on the part of Premier Crispi with the Banca Romana, the president's refusal to allow Signor Cavalotti to speak led to an uproar and the sitting had twice to be suspended.

Entombed in a Mine Since October. SHAMOKIN, Pa., June 25.—The bodies of George Brown and William Bucavage, who lost their lives in the Luke Fidler mine fire on Oct. 8 last, were recovered yesterday. All of the five victims have been found, but twenty dead mules still remain in the drowned out workings. The remains of Brown and his laborer were badly decomposed.

Murdered His Bride of a Day, Boston, June 25.-Frank Brown, an Italian, who was married Sunday night, fired four shots at his bride yesterday, one of them taking effect in her left side. After the shooting Brown fled without coat and hat, and ran in the direction of Chelsea, since which time he has not been

HASTINGS VERSUS QUAY.

There Will be a Contest for the Republican State Committee Chairmanship.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25 .- The expected combine to fight United States Senator Quay for the control of the party organization in Pennsylvania has been formed. It consists of David Martin, Senator Por ter, Mayor Warwick and their friends in Philadelphia, C. L. Magee and his friends in the West, and Governor Hastings and the friends of the administration wherever they can operate throughout the state. It is asserted that the governor enters personally into the campaign for the state convention, with the avowed purpose of becoming its presiding officer, and of defeating Senator Quay's aspirations for the HARR SBURG, June 25.—Governor Hastings formally announced last night to a reporter for the Associated Press that he would be a candidate for delegate from Centre county to the next Republican state convention, and that he would also stand for the permanent chairmanship of that body. This announcement followed upon a conference between the governor, Attorney General McCormick and Senator Quay. What passed between them none would disclose, except that the governor told the Benver senator that he favored Mr. Gilkeson's candidacy for re-

After the conference the senator said to the Associated Press correspondent that he thought Governor Hastings would be chosen chairman of the state convention without objection, but there would be a fight for state chairman. Governor Hastings said that the fight against Chairman Gilkinson is war in disguise against his administration for its stand during the recent legislation for a new apportionment of the state. He says that Mr. Gilkinson is an able leader and politician, and ought to be re-elected chairman for his success in increasing the Republican majorities in the state under his leadership.

On Trial for Husband Murder.

LA PLATA, Md. June 25.—The circuit court for Charles county convened here yesterday. The chief case before the court is that of the state vs. Mrs. Belle Farrall, indicted for the murder of her husband, Frederick Farrall, of Hughesville, by poisoning. Mrs. Farrall, who has been in hiding since the coroner's jury accused her of the crime, surrendered herself and was taken to the house of Sheriff Albrittain, at Port Tobacco. Mrs. Farrall's counsel, ex-Congressman Mudd and Colonel Wilmer, and her friends have always announced that she would appear for trial, but that she did not want to be confined in the Charles county jail, owing to its unsanitary condition. At the coroner's inquest much evidence regarding Mrs. Farrall's relations with a railroad employe, considering to have a damaging tendency, was given. The woman is 27 years old, and her husband was 46.

Saturday. Governor Hastings' Vetoes.

HARRISBURG, June 25 .- Governor Hastings approved twenty-nine bills and vetoed three. Most of the bills approved are local in character, and are of no interest outside of the communities immediately affected. The bills vetoed are: To repeal the act relating to the election of pathfinders in Erie county; providing for an additional law judge in the McKean-Potter district; supplement to the act relating to the licensing and power of detectives. Among the bills which met with the governor's approval was the superior court bill.

The Police Believe William Henry Guilty. BROOKLYN, June 25 .- The police have given up hope of finding the bloody clothing which must have been worn by the murderer of the miser, Charles W. Henry, at 95 South Portland avenue, and they are now engaged in bringing to the sur face all the dark places in the life of William Henry, who they feel confident committed the atrocious crime. Hitherto their efforts seem to have been mainly directed in proving that William Henry was worthless, if not absolutely vicious.

SALISBURY ACCEPTS.

Will Undertake the Formation of a New British Ministry.

GOSSIP AS TO ITS PERSONNEL.

Sir Henry James and Mesers. Balfour, Chamberlain, Goshen and Courtney Believed to be Slated for Positions.

LONDON June 25. —The Marquis of Salisbury conferred yesterday with the Right Hen. A. J. Balfour, the Conservative leader in the house of commons; the Duke of Bevonshire, the Unionist leader in the house of lords, and with the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, the Unionist leader in the house of commons, at his house in London, and proceeded to Windsor in regly to the summons of the queen following the resignation of the Rosebery ministry. After a brief interview with her majesty Lord Salisbury accepted the task of forming a new ministry.

The cabinet crisis continues to absorb the attention of the clubs, etc., and the best informed speculations regarding the cabinet agree in the belief that the new ministry is be composed of representatives of both sections of the Unionist party, although a dissolution of parliament cannot long be delayed. It may not be necessary to fill all the places in the ministry before taking steps for an immediate appeal to the country.

Then, according to program, the Marquis of Salisbury would become premier and president of the council of ministers, and the Duke of Devonshire would become secretary of state for foreign affairs. Mr. Bulfour is said to be slated for the office of first lord of the treasury, and Mr. Chamberlain will become secretary of state for war. The Right Hon. George J. Goshen, formerly chancellor of the exchequer, is said to be slated for the post of first lord of the admiralty.

Lord Lorsdowne, Sir Henry James and the Hon. Leonard Courtney, Liberal Unionist, are also reported to have been selected for cabinet positions.

The principal members of the Salisbury cabinet must be reelected immediately, and the dissolution of parliament is expected within a fortnight.

The Marquis of Londonderry, Conservative, is expected to be the next viceroy of

There were few peers in the house of lords when the premier, Lord Rosebery, rose at 3:45 p. m. to announce the resignation of the cabinet.

The Prince of Wales, the Duke of York and the Duke of Cambridge sat on the cross benches. The galleries were crowded with peerseses and a number of members of the house of commons were present in order to hear the statement of the premier. Lord Rosebers, amid deep silence, said: "I desire to make a very brief statement, which the house has undoubtedly anticipated. After the vote in the house of commons on Friday, which was practically a vote of censure on the secretary of war on a question of national defense, immediately after there had been laid before the house a great scheme for military organization, the government felt it their duty to place their resignations in the hands of the queen. Their resignations were accepted, and the government will only hold office until their successors are appointed."

The Earl of Cranbrook, Conservative, said that the Marquis of Salisbury had desired him to say he wished the house to adjourn until today.

Lord Rosebery remarked that there was only one important bill, the seal fisheries. which would be proceeded with, and he expressed the hope that it would pass all its stages today.

The seal disheries bill then passed its first reading.

The Daily News denies that Sir William Harcourt intends to retire from politics. At a meeting of McCarthyites in the house of commons it was decided to appeal to the Irish people, at home and abroad, for funds for the election.

The Times, The Post and The Daily News agrees that Lord Salisbury's accept ance of the task of forming a ministry is conditional on the Gladstoniaus not organizing votes of supply, and an early dissolution. The Times and Daily News further believe that no such assurance has been given, and that therefore the issue

The Bridgeton's Crew Deserts.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, June 25.-The crew of the steamer Bridgeton, which left Philadelphia May 24, has deserted. The men have all gone home. The officers deny that the Bridgeton had any connection with a fillbustering expedition to Cuba. The denial was called out by the publication here of a story that she and the ocean going tug George W. Childs took men and arms to Cuba. The Bridgeton remained here for repairs. She was in a sinking condition when she arrived, and badly battered, looking as if she might have encountered a Spanish gunboat. Her captain refused to be interviewed, merely saying she had been in a violent storm.

Opposing Bimetallism.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25 -The Union League, at a largely attended meeting last night, adopted resolutions opposing the principle of the free coinage of silver at an arbitrary ratio of 16 to 1. Addresses were made by C Stuart Patterson, William E. Lockwood and Mayor Warwick. The mayor vigorously denounced the attempts of the expenents of the free coinage of silver to force their principles upon the country, and challenged any one to give arguments to prove that those principles were right.

Appointed by Governor Rastings.

HARRISBURG, June 15 .- J. F. Taylor, of Washington, was yesterday appointed additional law judge of Washington county by Governor Hastings. The governor also appointed ex-Senator W. McKnight Willlamson, of Huntingdon county, president judge of the Huntingdon-Mifflin district. These are new judgeships created by the judicial apportionment bill passed by the last legislatura.

CREEDON DEFEATS HENNESSY. Win the Bout.

BOSTON, June 25. - Dan Creedon, of Aus tralia, and Billy Hennessy, of Boston, met at the Suffolk club rooms last night to settle the question of the middleweight pugilist championship of America. They were scheduled to fight twenty rounds. but only six were necessary. Captain William Daly, Jr., was referee. Creedon was overweight, tipping at 174 pounds to Hennessy's 148, but the latter conceded the difference. In the first four rounds Hennessy was game, but his fighting in the fifth was very much like that of a beaten man. The fluish of Hennessy in the sixth round was a surprise, however. Creedon shot out a few quick lefts. Hennessy fell, and on rising met the swinging right of Creedon. Hennessy toppled over upon his head, and it was thought that he was severely hurt, but he was carried out of the ring ten minutes later apparently unharmed. The spectators raised a cry of "foul," but the referee declared Creedon the winner.

The West Virginia Strike Still On.

Bluefield, W. Va., June 25.-Governor McCorkie, with State Auditor Johnson and Attorney General Reilly, who compose the state board of public works, arrived here last evening on their annual tour of assessment of railroad property. The governor incidentally stopped over in the coal fields and had a conference with the leaders of the strike and the coal operators. He says he sees no signs of abatement on the part of either party. The operators resist the putting in of the scales, and say they will only submit when forced by law. The miners, he says, are equally determined and will resort to law to force this right. The governor thinks the situation is very much mixed, but says everything is quiet and he sees no uso for soldiers.

Secr*tary Gresham's Will.

CHICAGO June 25.—The will of General W. Q Gresham, late secretary of state, was admitted to probate yesterday by Judge Kohisaat. It is written in Judge Gresham's own handwriting, upon one sheet of paper, and dated Dec. 18, 1888. It is as follows: "I, Walter Q. Gresham, do hereby make this my last will and testament: I give devise and bequeath to my wife, Maulda Gresham, all my estate, property and effects, real-and personal, and of every kind and description, and wheresoever situated, to have and hold absolutely. I appoint my said wife sole executrix of this will. The schedule of property owned by General Gresham shows that he was worth $51,000 at the time of his death.

- The Munitipa School Muddle.

OTTAWA, June 25 .- Excitement over the crisis concerning the settlement of the Manitoba school difficulty still continues. Today Protestant ministerialists held a caucus and passed resolutions warning the government that Canada, outside of Quebec province, will not tolerate interference. Sir Mackenzie Bowell, who a few tives that remedial legislation will be granted, changed his decision. There is now a plot on foot in the cabinet to compel Bowell to resign, and to place Hon. G. E. Foster, of New Brunswick, minister of finance, in the premier's chair.

Lambert Will Not Haug This Week. TRENTON, June 25.-Attorney General

Stockton, who was consulted by Prosecutor Jenkins yesterday, advised that Theodore Lambert, the condemned murderer of Baker Kairer, could not be legally hanged by Sheriff Barrett on Thursday, but that the appeal to the United States supreme court acted as a stay. The attor ney general first declined to advise Sheriff Barrett, and referred him to Prosecutor Jenkins. Mr. Jenkins was in the city, and afterwards consulted the attorney

THE KENTUCKY CONTEST

It Narrows Down to a Fight Between Gold and Silver.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM A MAJORITY.

Senator Blackburn Making a Vigorous Fight Against the Adherents of Secretary Carlisle, and National Politics Enter Largely Into the Fight for Supremacy.

LOUISVILLE, June 25 .- The Democratic state convention here will be unlong the the hottest contests in the history of the commonwealth. The polling of all the Louisville papers show the gold delegates to be in the majority. The silver men dispute their estimate, and charge that the Louisville papers claim most of the uninstructed delegates when those delegates are equally divided. The lines are down on the indorsement of the administration, with Carlisle's friends leading for the administration and Blackburn's friends against its financial policy.

General Cassius M. Clay is the administration candidate for governor, and General P. W. Hardin is the anti-administra-tion candidate. Ex-Governor Buckner publishes a card that he would not accept the nomination for governor, and insists that the sound money Democrats must select some other man if they cannot nominate General Clay. General Buckner says he is a candidate for senator on a sound money platform, and will have nothing

The fighting is for the temporary organization, with a view to securing the chairman, two members at large of the committee on resolutions and controling the rules and order of business so that nominations shall be made before the platform is adopted. As General Hardin claims enough votes to nominate him, the "honest money" delegates want the platform adopted first. There are some delegates instructed for Hardin who are opposed to free coinage. General Hardin is reported to have said he would insist on a free silver platform, and when seen he declined to deny it. His friends claim that he could not run on a Carlisle or administrative platform, and the canvass has been made with Blackburn and others on the free coinage issue.

There is a conservative element wanting the convention to reaffirm the national platform of 1892, and go no further on the financial question, but the silverites say that would imply indorsement of the administration. Senator Blackburn favers the reaffirming of the platform of 1833, with an additional affirmation that the pledges of 1892 have not been fulfilled by President Cleveland and Secretary Car-

The conservatives argue that if [General Hardin is nominated, and so controls the convention as to prevent the reaffirming of the national declaration of 1892, that the state ticket and platform would be outside the party, and that there might be some justification in the threatened bolt of the ultra gold men. The conservatives propose to have the balance of power in the convention, but they evidently have very little influence in the fighting that is going on for the chairmanship and control of the committees.

The state committee does not name the temporary chairman for this convention in advance. Chairman Carroll, of the state committee, holds the gavel till the convention selects its temporary chairman, and the first thing in order is the election of temporary officers, on which at this time depends the fare of the senatorial, gubernatorial and other candidates and the metallic complexion of the plat-

The "sound money" delegates announced ex-Congressman W. J. Stone as their candidate for temporary chairman. They say Blackburn's man is Judge Becker, who at the Winchester convention last week opposed the indersoment of Cleveland and Carlisle. They will make a test case on the vote between Becker and Stone, the latter being popular with some silverites and Hardin men. Mesatime the conservatives want both Becker and Stone to promise to appoint one silver and one gold man as members at large of the commutee on resolutions, and, in fact, to divide equally the members at large of all committees.

Senator Blackburn, who has more at stake at this convention than any of the other candidates, and more even than Carlisle, was disposed to concede to the conservative plan of an equal division of the members at large on each of the committees.

A telegram to the American Wheelmen from Philadelphia says that the two riders were suspended for thirty days from all races, and Walter Sanger is reported to have said that he will immediately join the professional ranks. Urging Welsh Workmen to Strike. PITTSBURG, June 25.—Officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers announce that conferences have been held with the representatives of the Welsh Tin Plate Workers' union, and had been positively assured that there would be a general strike in the tin plate factories in Wales in August. The Amaigamated officials are urging the Welsh workers to strike because if a lower rate of wages should prevail it would necessitate reductions in the tin plate factories in this country in order to compete with the foreign tin. While the Amalgamated officials do not state positively that the tin plate workers of America will contribute toward the strike, they indicate as much.

Murder Conspirators Convicted.

FORT SMITH, Ark., June 25.—The jury in the Kittenringe case in the United States court returned a verdict of guilty against all three defendants, Mrs. Mary A. Kittenringe, George Washington Fra-zier and Richard Calhoun. This ends the most important and mysterious murder case ever tried in Arkansas. The victim was Mrs. Kittenringe's husband, who was beaten to death by the side of the road near his home at Muldrow, I. T., for, it is claimed, $2,000 insurance on his life. The prosecution's testimony revealed a conspiracy of long standing.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., June 25 .- John Hurd and James Funk, the Blair county commissioners, last evening gave bonds In three different prosecutions brought against them for malfeasance in office. The cases will be tried this week. At a habeas corpus hearing the court declined to dismiss the prosecutions. Public in dignation against the accused officials was intensified yesterday when the grand jury conested the court to interfere with the alleged unlawful letting by the two commissioners of two important bridge contracts to the Croton Bridge company. The jury reported that the contracts had not been let to the lowest responsible bidders, and that the county had thereby suffered a direct loss of $1,490.

The Trial of Bob Fitzsimmons

SYRACUSE, June 25 .- When court adjourned last night nine jurors had been accepted, subject to peremptory challenge, in the trial of Pugilist Fitzsimmons for killing Con Riordan. One of the attorneys in the case expressed an opinion to the Associated Press representative after court adjourned that only two of these would be finally accepted. It is learned that the prosecution intend to show that Fitzsimmons struck a malicious and a knockout blow to teach Riordan that he should not become intoxicated, as he was the night the fatality occurred.

A Point for Editor Dana.

NEW YORK, June 25 .- Judge Brown, of the United States circuit court, denied the application for a writ of removal in the case of Charles A. Dana, indicted by the grand jury of the District of Columbia for an alleged criminal libel against F. B. Noyes, of the Washington Star. Judge Brown did not pass upon the question as to whether the defendant did or did not libel Mr. Noyes, nor did he consider the validity of the indictment found by the Washington court. The refusal of the writ of removal is based upon the techni cal grounds.

Detroit's Alleged Boodlers.

DETROIT, June 25.—Prosecuting Attorney Frazer will apply to the circuit court for the summoning of a grand jury to investigate the charges of boodling and corruption in office in the city hall. He asserts that the present investigation of boodle charges by a council committee is slow and ineffective. He desires to have the county grand jury appointed as a permanent adjunct to the Wayne county circuit courts.

Cheap Lodging For a Prince.

Accidentally a bill of an inn at Passeier, Tyrol, was discovered among the papers of a recently deceased member of the official household of Emperor William I, which gives an idea of the cost of living at that time. In 1851 William, then prince of Prussia, with a suit of six companions, stopped at the inn. The lodging for the company amounted to 12 kreutzer—5 cents. The breakfast coffee was more expensive, however-6 kreutzer for each cup-i e., 21/2 cents. A cent. The dinner at the inn, consisting of soup, meat, roast, fruit, preserves and wine, cost 27 kreutzer each, or less than 11 cents apiece. The total expense of lodging, breakfast and dinner for the party amounted to 2 florins and 25 kreutzer, or about 90 cents.

St. Elmo's Light.

The atmospheric delusion known as St. Elmo's fire, or St. Elmo's light, gets its name from a curious old legend of St. Adelelm, who, having started one dark and stormy night to visit the bishop of Auvergne, lighted a candle to guide him on the way. It was wholly unprotected by anything like a covering; but, notwithstanding the fact that the wind blew furiously and the rain fell in torrents, "it continued to burn with a bright and steady flame." The news of this miraculous occurrence soon spread in all Catholic countries and soon found place in the monkish manuscripts, where it was declared that the good Adelelm must have really been attended by St. Elmo and his fire.—St. Louis Republic

Divided Even In Death.

An old bachelor who has just died in Vienna, a man of great wealth, was a confirmed misogynist to the day of his death. In his will he directed his executors to bury him where no woman could be interred near him, and if necessary to purchase two extra graves, one on either side of his own, and leave them empty, so that in death he could escape proximity to the fair sex.—New York World.

I commenced to use tobacco when I was only 11 years old, and have naver been sole to give up the habit until I took Narcoti Curs, although I have tried other so called remedies without effect after using your remedy four days, all "hankering" for chewing disappeared, and in four days more smoking became unpleasant. Funny, isn't it? It it were not that some people are airaid of two or three men down our way we would make our end of the cit look like a "Greater Middletown" within three months. We are doing considerable in that line nevertheless, but it is harder, of course, to work with this constant grumbling and objecting. There were men who opposed the Erie Road because it would destroy teaming. Another thought electric lights in Middietown might make people stumble over the shadows. Another said if they changed the name of "Canal street" to the old musical Indian name of Wawayanda avenue, some of his friends couldn't spell it. Another wanted one of the church spires taken down for fear it would fall. Another said if people would do less washing and measure the water they used, Middletown would not need any more

SELLS BROTHERS' ENORMOUS UNI-TED SHOWS.

Crandest Triumph Ever Known in the History of the Circus World. When it comes to even the ordinary old-time, one-rlog, small, "round top" circus, " men are but children of a larger growth." Small wonder then that the announced visit to Middletown, on Thursday, June 27th, of Selis Brothers' big show of the world-the leading and longest established of all great arenic enterprises-creates a childlike furore of delighted expectation. Nor is eathusiastic anticipation in this instance misplaced, for the assurances are genuine and ample that there will be revealed to us, really and intrinsically the big show of the world, so far as rare wild beast possessions, brilliant equestrian and athletic performances, gorgeous oriental pageantry, and revived imperial, ancienttime heroic contests and pastimes can fill the bill. So they now come to us clear from the very opposite side of "the great globe itself," after a most marvelous journey of over twenty thousand miles, and crowned with the enthusiastic praise of a great, young sister empire, a wondrously rare exhibit of strangest Auctralian creatures, a Regal Roman ising, many patches of them being in | Hippodrome and 50-cage menagerie. which contains the most complete zpological collection on earth, three big circusses combined, and the only exhibited pair of full-grown giant the Summit lock considerably, as the hippopotami in the world. TUESDAY, JUNE 25, 1895,

North Adams, Mass., capitalists have decided to build a million dollar cotton mill, which will be the largest In the United States. Evidently they do not fear the effects of the Demociatic tariff on the cotton manufacturing business.

Thomas C. Platt, who has a very terse way of putting things sometimes, says that Republicanism and Reform will not be hitched together in New York, this fall. "Not on your life," says Platt. "We got green goods last year, and we are going to have straight goods this trip.'

The tri-college boat race at Poughkeepsie, yesterday, was rowed under unfavorable conditions of wind, water and weather. Columbia was nell was second. Pennsylvania's unlucky boat filled with water and was swamped when half a mile from the orders. naish line.

Kentucky's free silver Democrats are willing to compromise and harmonize on the financial plank of the platform, but they feel so much indignation at Secretary Carlisle's interference in State politics that they declare they will fight to the bitter end any resolution endorsing him or cover. the administration. They will not object to a few words of perfunctory praise of the administration's services in behalf of tariff reform, but beyond this they are not willing that the convention shall go.

The liquor interest in New York city went in for Republicanism and "Reform," last fall. The bait was the promise of more liberal excise laws, which would legalize Sunday selling and thus do away with the necessity of bribing the police to blindness. The "Reform" Legislature did not amend the excise law, but the Reform Police Commissioners are enforcing the Sundaw lay so vigorously and efficiently that the last state of the liquor dealers is worse than the first. And no one has acy sympathy for them.

The Y. M. C. A., last evening, presented an unusual appearance, the occasion of the Mock Trial's first sitting in case of Prof. Samuel Knowlittle vs. Adam Brown and others, Trustees of school district No. 510, town of Pawtuxet. Plaintiff sued for $750 back salary according to contract. Following are officers of Court: Judge, Herbert Gedney, Esq; Court Clerk, Frank M. Foote; Orier. Joe Grant; Constable, E. T. Hopkins.

Messis. Reynard and Fox, attorneys for plaintiff, demanded a jury. and the following men were finally agreed upon: J. Duryes, C. B. Hulse, O. P. Sadher, B. Scarsi, S. D. Hampson, A. C. N. Thompson, G. Rutan, C. Munson, C. R. Mille, Blake Wallace, L. Morgan and Howard J. Waterbury.

The interest was very deep; the appeals, cross-examination of witnesses was full of mirth. One hour and a half of delightfully interesting evidence was brought forth. Notwith standing the inclement weather the Association ball was quite well filled. Court will convene, to-night, at 8 o'clock.

THE WHEELMEN'S SUPPER-

Pleasantly Entertained by Landlord Schubert, of Bloomingburgh.

About twenty-five members of the Middletown Wheelmen went to Bloomingburgh, last evening, in two large covered wagons, the heavy shower having rendered wheeling impossible. The occasion was the club's annual supper, which had been engaged at Schubert's Hotel.

Mr. Schubert prepared a most excellent meal and the wheelmen spant a very enjoyable evening. The host presented each guest with a club monogram to be worn on shirts or sweaters.

Commencement week at the Misses Porter's school began, yesterday, with an art exhibit at the school, at which some most excellent work with the pencil and brush was shown. creditable alike to pupils and teachers. The exhibit elicited the warmest commendation from many visit-

The graduating exercises were held at the Assembly Rooms at 10 o'clock, this morning, and were well attended. The programme was as follows:

admirably rendered the young ladies acquitting themselves most creditably and showing that they have received the best of instruction and that they have profited by it. Miss Edith Catherine Royce's essay, "Woman in History," was a most creditable production. It showstyle was remarkably graceful and finished. It was read with admirable emphasis and expression. Miss Royce said that "although it is generally accepted as a truth that women have taken no vary prominent or influential part in the great drama which we call the history of the world, yet we find that her acts, her works and her subtle influence are so blended with the works, acts and them would leave much of the world's story untold and the whole would be a crude and unfinished volume because much that is pure and true and noble and holy would be eliminated from its pages." The essayist referred to women who had won distinction in literature and art, as moulders of public opinion, and as leaders of mankind, and cited historic incidents of their faithfulness, devotion and goodness. She owned, however, that the record of woman in history was not all unsulfied, and that they were responsible for much that was cruel and evil. She closed with the hope that in this respect | at 25 31, 38 45, 59 69, 75, 893. history would not repeat itself, and that the future history of woman may be "without spot or blemish, and that her position may become more elevated, her work more ennobled, her life more pure and holy and her example more inspiring."

Dr. Robinson's address was earnest and inspiring, full of words of wise counsel. At its conclusion he presented diplomas to Miss Edith Catherine Royce, who graduated in erine Iseman, who graduated in usual price. music.

MIDDLETOWNERS AT THE BOAT RACES.

An Unsatisfactory Experience in More Ways Than One-4 Cheerful O ptimist

The Middletown contingent who saw the college boat races at Pough. keepsie, yesterday, are not at all enthusiastic in their description of the event or in the narration of their exception friends of Cornell and the defeat of that crew, because, as they believe, of adverse conditions of wind and water, robbed the event of the sati-faction they would have felt if Cornell had won, and prevents them from accepting the defeat with the philosophy they would have shown had it taken place under conditions that demonstrated conclusively that Columbia's was the better crew.

Warned by their experience on Friday most of the Middletown party took the precaution, yesterday, to provide themselves with umbrellas, but umbrellas availed little against the flerce shower which beat down upon the observation train about 5 o'clock and nearly every one received a thorough drenching.

Mr. R M. Rorty tells an amusing story of a cheerful optimist. 4 modern Mark Tapley, who occupied a seat next to him on the observation train, Friday afternoon. When the clouds were gathering the inane remark, "I don't think it will rain, do you?" was often made by those on the car, who were anxious to keep up their own spirits and those of their companions. After the rain had begun to fall, Mr. Rorty's chance acquaintance, who had no umbrella, sat with coat collar turned up, soaked by rain and the drip from umbrellas, and every now and then with the most cheerful air imaginable and the blandest and most sincere of smiles, he would turn to Mr. Rorty with the before-the-storm chestnut "I don't think it will rain, do you?" Yesterday, the same fellow was in the same seat by Mr. Rorty. Of course he hadn't any umbrella, and of course he was soaked through and through, but he didn't mind a trifle like that and encouraged Mr. Borty and his companions in discomfort by the cheerful assurance that "the rain today isn't anything like as wet as it was Friday."

WALDENS VS JOHNSTOWN

The Grange County Champion's Easily Defeat the State Leaguers,

A number of base ball enthusiasts from this city journeyed to Walden, yesterday, to see the game between the champions of Orange county and the Johnstowns of the State League. Charlie Tierney, of Goshen, pitched the first three innings for Johnstown and the Waidens pounded out eleven runs and kept the visitors from scoring. In the fourth inning Johnstown struck a batting streak and nine runs were tallied before the side was retired.

McFall relieved Tierney in the ury; may its example be followed by fourth inning and Walden only made suits will become odious, and suits to score again and the game closed Saturday's game. They Steal a Hand Car-Break a Safe Lock but Secure No Booty,

At almost regular intervals burglare, presumably young men from this city, make a raid on the Erie's Crawford Branch, and always use the hand car to travel along the road. Last night the marauders were out. They stele the hand car from the house near Bullville, and ran to Thompson Ridge where they entered the depot by removing a pane of giass from a window.

The safe was not locked but this fact was unknown to the burglars, for they broke off the dial and knob of the combination lock.

Fortunately thers was no money in the safe, and when the Crawford train passed through there, this morning, nothing had been missed by the agent. It is suposed the burglars were frightened away from the depot, for contrary to their custom, they did not enter any other place along the Sylvesta C. Parkhurst, died at midnight, last night, at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth W. Shaw, at No. 6 Broad street, this city with whom she had boarded for the last six years. She was in her ninety-first year and the cause of death was the debility of old age.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Parkhurst lived in Goshen for a number of years, with the family of Robert H. Berdell, with whom her husband, who died twenty eight years ago, had held intimate business relations. When the troubles of the Berdell family culminated in the separation of Mr. and Mrs. Berdeil, she sided with the latter and her loyalty to her never wavered.

Mrs. Parkhu at was a native of Plymouth, Mass, and after her marriage resided in Cincinnati until 1861, when she removed to New York with her huaband.

Miss Ann Enza Scoffeld died this dren's shoes. Come and see. morning of bronchitie, at the resi dence of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Margaret J. Squires, 191 North street, in her seventy-first year.

Since 1887 Miss Scofield resided in York, Neb., with her sister, Mrs. A L Green, and when the latter died in March last, she came east with the body and remained here hoping that the change would benefit her health. In this hope she was disappointed and grew steadily worse.

She was a daughter of the late Henry and Julia Vandervort Scofield. She is survived by a brother James Sc field, of the State of Wash ington.

Her death will bring sorrow to many who knew and loved her for her beautiful life and kindly acts. She was one of the oldest members of the Second Presbyterian church, and was active in charitable and religious work.

The final arrangements will be announced later.

GOLD LINING IN KATS

YELLOW METAL FOUND IN RODENTS EXTRACTED BY YANKEE BOYS.

French Savants Who Take Gold From Microbes Not First In the Field-Boys 1. Watch Factories Burn Rats and Find Gold in the Ashes.

In forming a company for the extraction of gold from the microbes which are supposed to attach themselves to that metal in countless millions mature Frenchmen seem to have stolen an idea from thrifty Yankee boys.

I. B. Lake, a representative of the Waltham Watch company in Chicago, says it is a common practice for the boys in watch and jewelry factories to kill rats and burn their bodies to get the gold from them, and that the amount so obtained in the course of a year in considerable. In every large plant like that of the Waltham Watch company many oiled rags are used in burnishing watch cases and in time become strongly impregnated with gold. The boys about the factories are supposed to keep these rags out of reach of the rats, but they don't do so. On the contrary, knowing the keen appetite of the rodents for everything greasy, the boys carelessly leave these rubbing rags lying about where the rats can get at them and eat

Six months of this kind of diet fill the interior mechanism of the rat with a gold plating he cannot get rid of. It sticks to him closely, and so long as the supply of only rags holds out the rat sticks to the factory. In order to make sure the voracious rodents will have an inducement to garge themselves with gold sharp boys drop butter and fatty meats from their lancheons on the floors and rub them well into the wood by shuffling their feet on it. At night the rats some out and nibble the flooring. They don't care for the gold in it, but the grease attracts them, and in getting at the grease they take a dressing of gold

Twice a year the boys have a grand roundup. Rats are caught by the hundreds, and after being killed are put into a crucible and burned. The intense heat drives off all animal substances, leaving the gold in the shape of a button. The amount collected in this way depends upon the number of rats the boys can catch. It is hardly large enough to attract an investment of capital, but it gives the ingenious youngsters considerable pocket money and encourages business tactics. In some factories there are young Napoleons who buy up in advance the shares of their fellow workers in the rat colony. A scarcity of rats will depress the price of fatures, while an overplus will advance it. Sharpers who understand these conditions are accused of having at times caused an artificial scarcity or oversupply, as it might be to their interest to bull or bear the market. The French discoverers are a little behind the times with their microbe scheme.—Chicago Tribune.

Fighting Pests With Pestilence.

Since May 1, Dr. Paul Schweitzer, chemist of the Missouri state experimental station, has been issuing packages of diseased chinchbugs, to be disstate, to create an epidemic among the healthy bugs, thus exterminating them. The chinchbugs are more numerous this year than ever before. The wheat crop is being literally devoured.

The experiment with the infection made at the station has proved thoroughly successful. The disease is speedy in action and almost invariably fatal in effect, death occurring a short time after the first symptoms appear.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

At the close of a matinee in Boston, on Wednesday, the manager of the theater announced a prize of a pair of "diamond" slippers to the lady in the audi ence with the smallest foot. Among these a second contest was arranged, in which Miss Carrie Ellis of Dedham, Mass., was an easy winner.—Philadelphia

CONQUEST OF THE NORTHWEST. It Was Acquired From the British by Force of Arms. In 1776, when independence was declared, the United States included only the 13 original states on the seaboard. With the exception of a few hunters, there were no white men west of the Alleghany mountains, and there was not even an American hunter in the great country out of which we have since made the states of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin. All this region north of the Ohio river then formed a part of the province of Quebec. It was a wildevness of forests and prairies, teeming with game and inhabited by many warlike tribes of lucians.

Here and there through it were dotted quaint little towns of French creoles, the most important being Detroit, Vincennes, on the Wabash, and Kaskaskia and Kahokia, on the Illinois. These French villages were ruled by British officers commanding small bodies of regular soldiers or Tory rangers and creole partisans. The towns were completely in the power of the British government. None of the American states had actual possession of a foot of property in the Northwestern territory.

The northwest was acquired at the time of the Revolution only by armed conquest, and if it had not been so acquired it would have remained a part of the British Dominion of Canada.

The man to whom this conquest was due was a famous backwoods leader, a mighty hunter, a noted Indian fighter-George Rogers Clark. He was a very strong man, with light hair and blue eyes, of a good Virginian family, who, early in his youth, embarked on the adventurous career of a backwoods surveyor, exactly as Washington and so many other young Virginians of spirit did at that period. He traveled out to Kentucky soon after it was opened up by Boone and lived there for a year, either at the stations or camping by himself in the woods, surveying, hunting and making war against the Indians like any other settler. But all the time his mind was bent on vaster schemes than were dreamed of by the men around him. Ho had his spies out in the Northwestern territory and became convinced that with a small force of resolute backwoodsmen he could conquer it for the United States. When he went back to Virginia, Governor Patrick Henry entered heartily into Clark's schemes and gave him authority to fit out a force for his purpose. -Theodore Roesevelt in St. Nicholas.

WOMEN IN FRANCE.

They Are Not Only the Stronger but the Better Half In That Country. Women are the stronger as well as the better half of France. They do everything but build houses. The best inspector in the French custom house is a woman. She is in the Havre office, and she has a nose that can detect dutiable goods without opening a lock. She is naturally amiable and slow to anger, but woe to the foreigner or countryman who pro-okes her ire. There is no sadder spectacle in the republic of France than the women shoe polishers, who doze under the sheds of the markets and quay, one eye shut and t'other fixed on the bootbox over the way, patiently waiting for trade. They ask 5 cents and accept 2 cents for their unwomanly work.

At Thiers, the blackest town in France, the women sit outside of the grimy little machine shops mating seissor blades and polishing knife and scissor handles. The stream that turns the 10,000 little mill wheels is blacker than the Chicago river, and as the furnaces never burn without belching the toilers and their devoted lifelong apprentices are sometimes Malay and sometimes Mongolian, but seldom Cancasian in

Not long ago a college woman went down to Thiers to teach school for the winter. The promise of 80 pupils was a temptation, but on reaching the colony of soot begrimed and smoke stained smithies she found that the position paid $5 a month, and the teacher was expected to furnish the fuel for the winter.—Philadelphia Times.

Sweet Peas.

Whether sweet peas can be successfully planted in autumn depends largely on the lititude, says Garden and Forest. In the southern states fall planting is a necessity, for this is the only way to give the plants a cool soil in which to make a strong, early root growth. Coming farther north, fall planting is safe up to perhaps the latitude of Washington, where the chances are about equal between planting in late autumn and in February. In southern California peas must be brought into bloom as early as February, although the nights are so cool there that they may be planted during any month in the year. The rule observed by the large seed growers is to plant just ahead of the rainy season. Indeed they have acres of volunteer sweet peas—that is, from seed which were scattered on the ground during the harvest-and 45 miles south of San Francisco these volunteer plants are in bloom by the 1st of May and often on 'v in April.

Gentlemen—For forty years I used tobacco in all its forms — For twenty-live years of that time I was a great sufferer from general debity and heart disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit, but couldn't. I took various remedies, among others "No-To-Buc," "The Indiar Tobacco Antidote." "Double Chloride of Gold," jets. etc., but none of them did me the least bit bacco Antidote." "Double Chloride of Gold," etc., etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good. Finally, however. I purchased a box of your "Baco-Curo" and it has entirely cured me of the habit in all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved from all the numerous aches and pains of body and mind. I could write a quire of paper upon my changed feelings and condition. Yours respectfully, P. H. MARBURY, Pastor C. P. Church, Clayton, Ark.

ATLANTIC, Iowa, Feb 4, 1895.
This is to certify that 1, F. D. Kraemer, of Atlantic, Iowa, was an inveterate smoker of cigarettes for more than two years.

About eight weeks ego I bought three boxes of "Baco-Curo." I began taking it according to directions, and after taking one and one-half boxes, all the desire for eigarettes left me, and I have had no desire since.

I can heartily recommend "Baco-Curo" to all who are slaves to the eigarette habit or tobacto habit in any form, and are in search of a cure. I had become so under the influence of eigarettes, I could not remember anything; could not study, unless under the influence of the drug, which is death in the end. If kept up.

Cigarettes are sapping the lives out of more boys and young men to-day, than anything that is known to the world. Boys, before it is too late get some of this remedy that killed the craving for eigarettes in me and save your young life. Restore yourself to manhood. You will teel as though you had escaped an awful doom, and you have, when cured by "Baco-Curo," for you feel like a new being. I never felt better in all my life than at this present writing. I did not know what was the master with me, until informed by the agent. He told me what was the reason i could not do anything unless under the influence of the death-dealing poison found in cigarettes. I the not believe him at first, until he explained the action on the system. The told may reach the unfortunate cigarette sugger, I remain. Yours respectfully.

Some Mistakes of History.

A new spring avalanche, startled by the loud shouts of triumph that rose on the blue air, waitzed down the mountain side hearing in its grasp such members of the pea-antry, cuckoo clocks and Swiss chaets as it could hastily gather together for that purpose.

"Saved!" cried William Tell, for it was h., taking a broad silver clasp out of his pocket and clasping his son to his breast.

"Yes, father, it is true," returned Albert, biting a large parenthesis out of the served apple and laughing in merry glee, but it was an arrow escape."

And the only reason the tyrant Gessler lidn't strike off his said was because history tells us there never was any such person.-New York Recorder.

Sketch of a new woman crossing a muddy road.-Wonder.

He Knew.

The 250 pupils of the Sunday school of the Fifreenth Street Christian church had gone through their lesson yesterday forepoon, and most of the children were shifting their feet uneasily when Superintendent Ernest Forbes announced from the pulpit platform that Attorney W. O. Thomas would make a short address and then the benediction would be said. At-torney Thomas mounted the platform with a slow movement and a thoughtful air, and 500 eyes watched him as he fondled his chain and remarked that he would say a few words about the damage that whisky would do the brein when it was taken into the stomach.

"Now." he said. "is there a boy or girl here who can tell me what is the principal constituent part of the human brain?"

That word econstituent befuddled most of the little minds present, but one girl. who attends the high school on weeks days, raised her hand and said, "Albumen.

"That is right." said the lawyer, "albumen forms the principal part of a man's brain. And now can you tell me what forms the principal part of an egg?"

The same girl answered "Albumen" again, and the lawyer looked pleased as he pronounced the answer correct.

"Now," be continued as he laid the forefinger of his right hand in the palm of his left, "now to show you the effect of whisky on the brain, suppose I break an egg in a glass. Are you listening?" Two hundred and fifty heads nodded carnestly. "Well. I break this egg in a glass and pour in some whisky on top of it. What do I have then?" Attorney Thomas expected the high school girl to reply that the whisky would turn the egg white and spoil it, but she said nothing. He repeated his question. What would I have if I poured the whisky in the glass with the egg?"

"Eggnog!" shouted a little fellow on the front bench.-Portland Telegram.

A Man With Hopes.

Near midnight the other night I sat down in City Hall park a minute before tackling the long flight of steps to the Brooklyn bridge, and I hadn't drawn half a dozen breaths before a chap came over from another bench and "struck" me for a dime. After I had given it to him I said: "You must go hungry at least half the

I yelled at him to come back with my dime, but he vanished in the gloom in the direction of Broadway, and a policeman came along and ordered me to shut up .-Detroit Free Press.

His Careful Caution.

"Will you"-The landlady glanced across the table at his empty plate.

-"linve some more soup?" With that spirit of cautiousness that is fostered and grows rapidly in a boarding house atmosphere he replied evasively:
"Um, er—that is, ah, what kind of meat have you today, Mrs. Skraggs?' For a moment the landlady assumed a thoughtful expression. But that was only a bluff. Presently she arswered sententiously:

"Chicken." Readily recalling many former experi ences with bony necks and neatless wings, the boarder with the V shaped nose hasely passed has plate for more soup.-New York World

COST OF REPUBLICAN RULE.

Curther Figures Showing the Increased Taxes Grange County Will Have to Pay as a Result of the Extravagance of the Republican Legislature.

The Argus, on Saturday, published an article on increased taxation under Republican State, county and city administrations, and copied as the basis for the article a table of the increase in taxes in the cities and towns of Orange county compiled by the Gosben Independent.

While that table was correct so far as it showed the valuation of real estate as made by our local assessors, at was not correct as showing the in-Grease in taxation in Orange county by reason of a Republican Legislamure's extravagance.

Through the courtesy or a gentlean who is well informed upon this subject we are able to make a correccion, which will show that Orange county's taxes will be increased several thousand dollars more than acpears in the table prepared by the Independent.

The real estate valuation of Orange county, last year, as returned by the * 588550rs, was $33,825,873; to this the State Assessors added 191/4 per cent. or $6.605,344 in making up their equalization table, making the total real estate valuation of the county $40,431. 217. The valuation of personal property subject to tax for the year is not Enown when the State Board meets and the personal valuation of the previous year is used as the basis of wax apportionment. The personal valuation in 1893 was $4 409,788 and This added to the total of real, gave a grand total of $44,841,005, as Ocange amounty's real and personal valuation, an which we paid $2.18 per $1,000, or ುವ total tax, last year of $97,753 39.

Taking last year's real estate ratio 35 a basis we have $40,311,882, to which last year's personal valuation. $4,311,882, must be added, and we have a total valuation of $44,743,099 which, at the Republican Legislature's high rate of $3.24 per $1,000 of valuation, will make Orange county's State taxes, this year, $144,967.64. an increase over last year of $47,214 25.

Using the Supervisors' ratio, last year, $38,275,696, as given in the Independent's statement, gives Orange county a tax rate of $3 78 per $1,000

This increase of $47,214.25 in our Yaxes this year as the penalty of electing a Republican legislature may not be the full extent of our Durden.

There is no reason to believe that where will be much change in the eassessment of real property over last war, and there is good reason to Delieve that the State Assessors will give us another boost in the equalization in September next. They have done so for six successive years. Zast year as stated above the increase Ter Orange county was 191/2 per cent. If it is as much this year, and the valuation of real and personal pr perty is the same as last year, Orange county's chare of the State taxes, whis year, will be nearly $60,000 more -than in 1894, or nearly fifty per cent. more than the Independent's estimate, and there is no good reason to expect them to be much if any less.

Middletown's share of this increase will be about $4,800, which, added to the increase in city taxes of $8,239 40, will make Middletown's total increase of taxes for State and city purposes over $13,000, with a Republican Board of Supervisors to hear from in the matter of county have. As we have said before, Republiczanism is an expensive luxury.

"LISTEN TO MY TALE OF WOE."

Mow a Rich Sullivan County Farmer was Jilted by a Fascinating Widow. From the Port Jervis Union.

John Fahrer, a substantial farmer, 2021 Fosterdale, Sullivan county, is rereported to be in deep mourning over wales lickleness of a fascinating widow * From New York city, who spent the summer season of 1894 in one of the numerous boarding houses of that tocclity. Her name is Striel.

.Fahrer is on the shady side of sixty and deficient in personal beauty. These disadvantages were in a measure offset by a respectable bank account and several excellent farms of which he is the owner, and when, after a few weeks of strenuous courtship, he whispered his tale of love into the not unwilling ear of the fascinating widow Striel, the latter was disposed to look with, favor on his suit and finally gave an affirmative answer.

The wedding was fixed to occur at Sallicoon on Saturday last, and to this place both parties repaired at the appointed time, the aged lover driving there from Fosterdale and the widow making the journey thith- | for each insertion. No advertisement taken for or by rail, taking with her an elaborate trousseau.

The hopes of the aged lover were doomed to cruel disappointment, for when the widow saw him, after a ! long absence, such was the diserchanting effect of his personal apperrance that she refused to carry out the nuptial contract and returned to New York by the next train, leaving her aged lover in a discorsolate and despairing mood. The scene is described as a very touching one by those who witnessed it. Widow Striel is a well preserved, handsome woman of forty, who calls herself twenty-five.

Weakness is the symptom, impovrished blood the cause, Hood's Sarparilla the cure. It makes the eak strong.

INFANTS DYING.

Early Appearance of Cholera Infantum.

Serious Times Ahead for the Badly Nourished Ones.

When Children Run Most Risk of Diarrhoea.

The Diet Invariably Used in Most Careful Homes.

Children Take Lactated Food Eagerly and Retain It.

Only by the most judicious feed ing can children be saved from intestinal disorders that now lie in wait for every enfeebled infant.

Children should not stop growing and steadily increasing in weight during the summer months. Any decline in strength, activity and high spirits at such times should be even more quickly observed and remedied than at other seasons. Any sign of let-up in the healthy nourishment of the child should be met with lactated food.

The carefully studied composition of this perfect infant diet, so accurately adapted to the needs or growing children, makes it easy to induce them to take abundant food of a highly nourishing quality and of absolutely assured purity. Babies fed on a diet of lactated food lose that pinched look almost immediately; the profuse perspiring that usually accompanies weakness ceases; their sleep becomes restful, and their pale cheeks and white lips get full and

All this change will be due to the simple effect of that richer, completer and more sati fying det of lactated food.

At the beginning of the summer the physicians give warning that the emphatic warning does not reach every city and town in this state is evident from the high infantile death rate. But in those places where the newspapers have published the discussions that are now going on regarding proper infant feeding in summer, large quantities of lactated food are used. The result is, statistics show, that the fewer deaths occur in those towns and cities where the larger amount of lactated fcod

Comparisons of this sort are absolutely convincing.

June is a fatal month for the little ones, and without the utmost care the local physicians say that the dreadful mortality and increasing amount of sickness among children will continue.

The one safe plan is to feed infants on lactated food.

Physicians say every in case of cholera infantum the child is improperly fed and nourished, and hence the disease.

"It is absolutely certain," says a physicism, in one of the medical journals, speaking of the alarming summer mortality, "that the cau e of this high death rate among infants is in digestion."

Thousands of physicians prescribe lactated food for their little patients, at the beginning of the summer, with the full assurance that the dread disease is not likely to appear in that family.

It must be borne in the mind that lactated food is so inexpensive that it is within the reach of every one. One hundred and fifty meals can be made from a dollar package of the food, and prepared for use it costs less than five cents a quart.

Mothers must remember that cholera infantum can be more easily prevented than cured. Feed the baby with pure lectated food, and keep the child well and strong.
